Aims & Scope

The Bunsen-Tagung 2025 brings together scientists from all over the world to one meeting covering all disciplines of the Physical Chemistry and related sciences. The Bunsen-Tagung aims to provide a forum where scientists, particularly early career researchers (yPCs) and Physical Chemists from industry, can present their work, and exchange and discuss their ideas and research with experts from different fields of Physical Chemistry.

The key topic “Physical Chemistry of the Climate and the Atmosphere” in Leipzig will be highlighted by a suite of distinguished international speakers with forefront international expertise in this field.

Program

- Lectures from academia & industry
- Poster sessions
- Themed sessions, e.g. for yPCs
- Award Ceremony
- Science Dinner
- Women’s Networking lunch

Key Topic

- Physical Chemistry of the Climate and the Atmosphere

General Topics of Physical Chemistry

- Biophysical Chemistry and Biophotonics
- Catalysis
- Electrochemistry
- Reaction Kinetics and Dynamics
- Spectroscopy
- Surface and Interfaces
- Theory and Data Science
- Transport and Storage

Plenary Speakers

Opening Lecture

Prof. Mojib Latif, CAU/GEOMAR, Kiel, DE

Plenaries

Prof. A.R. (Ravi) Ravishankara, CSU Boulder,
CO, US

Prof. Merete Bilde, CCC Copenhagen, DK
